New York, May 28.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Co. in their cotton circular to-night say:

"Reselling of June-July contracts in Liverpool this morning in anticipation of heavy deliveries there on July 1st, instead of to-day, has affected the market on the same positions and affected the distant to a lesser degree. At the close a slight recovery was effected, and private cable advises a better feeling and signs of gradual improvement in Manchester. The depression in the market seems to have been due to causes locally operating, as this market has been almost entirely unaffected. At the opening sales for account of weak holders and some few stop orders caused a declination of twenty points in August, which month sold at six per cent., the supply of offering selling, however, small, and prices gradually recovered, closing at a high point, having last evening and three points in new crops."

Futures closed steady. Receipts for the day are 3,500 bales against 4,300 last week, and 1,300 bales last year. The spot market is quiet and unchanged.
